Dear Parents:

As we begin the 2017-2018 athletics seasons, we have reevaluated our transportation fee structure and have designed a new tiered system that more accurately reflects the current costs of bussing to and from athletic events. Sports have now been grouped by the number of buses they require per season and have been assigned a fee based on their usage. As a result, transportation fees for MOST athletes will be lower this year. Below is the new tiered structure and the fees associated with each group.

The Beckman Athletic Department continues to encourage multi-sport participation and, as a result, the maximum dollar amount a multi-sport athlete will be responsible for during each school year is $140. Also, to ease the burden on families with multiple student athletes, the maximum dollar amount a family will be responsible for is $250 per school year.

All athletes enrolled on an athletic team are required to pay the corresponding transportation fee to Beckman ASB. An athlete is not cleared to participate in a sport during their season until payment has been received.
